HIGHER GASOLINE TAX

WASHINGTON—Higher taxes on gasoline and a little lightening of the levies on incomes of between $8000 and $25,000 were voted yesterday by the House Ways and Means Committee.

The decisions virtually brought to an end the long-drawn deliberations of the committee over the measure that is designed to make the tax wall a little higher and less susceptible to escape by the possessors of large fortunes.

Leaders plan to bring it up in the House on Tuesday. The measure represents the first general overhauling of the administrative provisions of the income tax law since it was adopted 20 years ago.

OPPOSE WATERWAY

WASHINGTON—At least eight and possibly ten New England's twelve senators are expected by foes of the St. Lawrence waterway to vote against its ratification. The senators believed certain to oppose the waterway are Walsh and Coolidge of Massachusetts, Hale and White of Maine, Hebert and Metcalf of Rhode Island and Lorgan and Walcott of Connecticut.

The New England delegation has been asked to oppose ratification of the treaty by the Boston Port Authority, the maritime division of the Boston Chamber of Commerce and other organizations.

NO QUESTIONS ASKED

WASHINGTON—The Treasury lifted the requirement that persons turning in hoarded gold must leave their names and an explanation why the metal was not previously surrendered. The requirement tended to frighten some small gold holders and discourage them from turning in their gold. Until further notice the gold will be received by Federal Reserve banks and no questions asked.

GOTT EXPLAINS NEED OF STATE SALES TAX

French Royalists in Toils

Charles Maurras, editor of "Action Francais," noted royalist newspaper, shown under arrest in Paris after he had been charged with incitement to murder. Maurras paper led Paris press in flaying government over Stavisky scandal, the primary cause of present crisis.

GIVES REASONS FOR FAVORING TAX IN COMMITTEE REPORT

Explaining his stand in voting for a sales tax, Representative Hollis M. Gott of this town yesterday issued a lengthy statement on why the Commonwealth should have such a tax. Representative Gott is a member of the legislative committee on taxation which considered the two per cent tax on retail sales, the tax to be paid by the consumer. He said that many people were misinformed on this tax as a result of editorial comment made by one of the Boston newspapers. Mr. Gott's statement follows:

"The Massachusetts Legislature is again considering the necessity and advisability of a 2 per cent tax on retail sales, the tax to be paid by the consumer. This question cannot be considered lightly, and we should not adopt the sales tax if it is just another tax, imposed upon distraught individuals, so that governments, state and municipal, may have the wherewithal to continue to spend. If there is a very real and actual necessity for additional revenue to support government, then it must be decided who shall pay, and how the money shall be raised.

"In 1933 there was a reduction in expenditures for government in Massachusetts. The appropriations by cities and towns in 1932 were $276,867,537, and in 1933 the appropriations were $231,727,781. It must be admitted that a large part of that $45,000,000 reduction was due to the postponement, or elimination of capital outlay. In all fairness to our local governments it must be said that economy has been practiced, at least in our towns.

Federal Money Helped

"All forms of revenue from corporations, income taxes, and all other sources were lessened in 1933. Real estate was relieved, fortunately, by virtue of a great deal of Federal money being expended, and some appropriations were cared for by borrowed money, and because the government returned to the State a certain amount for public welfare. Although Federal money helped the tax on real estate in 1933 we cannot lose sight of the fact that we must sometime pay the bill because government has no money except that money which comes from the people. Government cannot borrow money and not pay it back, and we cannot receive financial aid from government unless we pay the bill. Government is the people. Of three billions of dollars that the Federal government has authorized to be spent on a recovery program, the State of Massachusetts must pay about 6 per cent or $180,000,000. If the Federal government spends ten billions, as some predict, our

OSTEOPATHIC HOSPITAL ASKS FUNDS FOR CLINIC

Since its founding six years ago, the Massachusetts Osteopathic Hospital in Jamaica Plain, Boston, has been quietly conducting a type of service not duplicated by any charitable hospital in New England.

Although without endowment and dependent entirely upon contributions from its friends, the hospital has maintained during these six years an out-patient department given over entirely to the care of those urgently needing osteopathic treatment, but without funds to pay for it.

This Charity Clinic is under the direction of Dr. A. F. McWilliams assisted by a staff of leading osteopathic physicians of greater Boston. Dr. McWilliams and his staff give their time and services, without pay, to the men, women and children who wait in a long line at the hospital each morning from 8 to 10 to be examined and treated.

The trustees of the hospital are facing a more acute problem this year than ever in meeting the increased demands upon this Charity Clinic and in asking contributions from the public are hopeful that their sixth annual Birthday appeal, during the week of March 4th to 11th will meet with more than ordinary success.

Dr. John A. MacDonald, one of the trustees in discussing this appeal said, "Even in normal times it has been a real problem to adequately meet all the demands made upon our Charity Clinic. We are glad and want to give our time and services to everyone who needs it, but unless we receive a particularly generous response to our Birthday appeal this year, we may be forced to curtail this splendid work."

Crime Talk At Rotary

Attorney Harry L. Simpson, chairman of the State Crime Commission, was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Arlington Rotary Club in the Middlesex Sportsmen's Clubhouse yesterday noon.

In discussing the need of better protection against organized gangsters, and particularly to avoid a recurrence of a bank robbery such as that which took place in Needham a few days ago, Attorney Simpson made several suggestions whereby the Commonwealth's police protection might be improved. Among other things, he advocated a central bureau of criminal investigation; the placing of all police chiefs under the command of the State Commissioner of Public Safety; and better equipment such as teletype, radio, and firearms for all Police Departments throughout the State.

"Spread Sunshine and Safety"

Daddy Sunshine Club Rules

1. Be kind and helpful to others.
2. Look both ways when crossing streets.
3. Always be kind to dumb animals.
4. Write a letter to Daddy Sunshine, or have Mother or Dad write it for you, every now and then.
5. Try to bring a "Ray of Sunshine" into the lives of your parents and others every day of the week and every week of the year.

These rules are not very difficult for good girls and boys to keep. Most of them are kept by them anyway.

Mail your letters and stories to Daddy Sunshine, in care of this paper. He will answer them in the Daddy Sunshine column.

Write on but one side of the paper, and place your age and address on the letter after your name. Give the day, month and year of your birth.

To join the club all you have to do is promise to keep the rules—and keep them.

LOGS

"Throw another log on the fire"
It will keep us warm.
May and Jack and Jeremiah
Love that tuneful song.

And the grown-ups hum and sing it
And the reason why?
It recalls—is sympathetic;
Pictures, days gone by.

Coke and coal and oil for heating
In the present days—
Fire-sides are thus retreating.
Due to modern ways.

But the wood fire in the home—stead
In the days gone by,
By the old folks is remembered—
Glow in memory's eye.

Sunshine members who send letters,
Keep love fires alight:
Logs indeed, the living embers,
Please us every night.
—Sunshine Jerry

ANOTHER WARNING FROM A WIDE-AWAKE MEMBER

Dear Daddy Sunshine:
I am very glad you printed my rules, and poems. I was delighted with them.

Here is another warning. When I was watching a boy riding his bicycle on Central ave, I heard the jamming of a car's brakes. When I looked to see what had happened, I saw a boy on his bicycle directly in front of an automobile. I could tell that the driver was nervous because he got out of his car to see if the boy was hurt but instead the boy peddled along on his bicycle unhurt. This ought to be a lesson to other members of the club who have bicycles. Don't you think so Daddy?

Bobby Oliver
51 Grant ave

Your warning is most fitting, Bobby. Many of our members have bicycles. Most of them, that is all whom Daddy Sunshine know, are very careful and do not ride in the middle of the road. They keep to the curbing. In this way accidents seldom happen. It is the thoughtless member who makes drivers nervous and who is the cause of accidents. Hope to hear from you again soon. Maybe you will have another suggestion for the members.

IS FEELING BLUE

Dear Daddy Sunshine:

I thought I would drop you a line and let you know I am feeling fine, and hope you too are well. I go to St. Joseph's school. I am in the second grade.

So long for a while. I am 6 years old.

Alice Patricia McGrath
17 Allen ct

Thanks Alice for your greetings. Study hard and you will always be one of the leaders of your class. Always obey your teacher. She knows, like your mother, what is best for you. Hope you write again, soon.

MAKES UP POEM

Dear Daddy Sunshine:

How are you? I am very glad to hear there is going to be another party. I hope many of the old members come. On my report card I went up in 10 subjects. Here is a poem I thought up:

When snow falls, we see lots of snow balls,

Here and there and everywhere
Watch out for them or you will be in a wheel chair.

Sincerely,

Dorothy Leonard
14 Newcomb st.

Happy to hear from you again Dorothy and to learn you will be at the party at the Women's clubhouse on Governors ave. Washington's Birthday afternoon at 2 o'clock. We expect a great time and loads of fun. Yes, many of the older members will be present. Thanks for the poem.

SOMERVILLE AIMS FOR NEW ATHLETIC FIELD

"Somerville is still an athletic city."

Thus spoke Mayor James E. Hagan this morning when questioned about his program of acquiring a new field and stadium for the Somerville High School athletic teams, a program that will probably become a Public Works Administration development.

"The present stands are not adequate and if we put 2000 more people into them they will be dangerous. That is the main reason for the desire to acquire a new field. Another is that we wish to get things going. We want to arouse anew spirit in the people and in the students. It is not necessarily a desire for winning, for championship teams that prompts this attitude, but the feeling that Somerville has been athletically asleep for 'he last five or six years.'

Nothing definite has as yet been done about the plans. The P. W. A. authorities in Washington must first be approached. The idea in Mayor Hagan's mind is to tear down the present stands and erect bleachers for baseball games. Tennis courts and a general play area could be installed where the stadium is now located, in addition to the diamond.

The striking part of the proposal is the erection of a new football and track stadium in the vacant area that lies behind the club room. There is sufficient land along the Alewife Brook Parkway for a modern, fully-equipped athletic plant. Such an addition would probably do much to improve Somerville athletic teams that have been in the doldrums for some time now.

"Somerville is still the most congested city in the vicinity of Boston," concluded Mayor Hagan, "and the present site, although not centrally located is the best we have. What we need is a new spirit, or an awakening of the old, and a modern field, I believe, will supply this."

Will Rogers Picks A Story For This Spot

By WILL ROGERS

THERE was a young preacher out in Arizona that was awful careful about his manners and kinds watchful so as not to scandalize his flock. The flock wasn't very big, and he wanted to keep 'em all coming to church, so he was mighty careful to keep from smoking or swearing or dancing or doing anything tough that way. But he did play a little golf, and he wasn't so very good at it. One day when he was playing with the biggest pillar in his congregation, he broke his club, swatting away the ground. He yelled out, "Roosevelt! Oh, Roosevelt, look what I done!" "Yeah," says the pillar. "I'll get you a new club. But what has Roosevelt got to do with it?"

"Oh, that's just a little word I use when I'm vexed."

"But what for? Ain't there any more expressive word than Roosevelt?"

"Well, maybe there is. But, you see, I'm kinda restricted in my choice of words by my profession. And Roosevelt is the name of the biggest dam I ever seen."

Laughing Around the World With IRVIN S. COBB

An Earnest Cry for Help

By IRVIN S. COBB

OUR town—I mean the one where I was born—formerly abounded in characters—"types" they'd call them in a larger place. One of our local institutions twenty years ago was a black driver named Abe, but called Old Abe for short. Abe was popular with both races, good natured, loud mouthed and friendly. He had one social shortcoming, though. About once in so often he would slip out on a dark night and acquire something of value without the formality of speaking to the owner about it. For awhile he escaped a penitentiary sentence.

But eventually he was caught with what the Grand Jury and the prosecuting attorney regarded as the goods—the said goods consisting of a stray calf. He was lodged in the Blue Eagle jail to await trial. His cell was in the upper tier. On the Sunday afternoon following his incarceration his wife, accompanied by five or six of Abe's pickaninies came to pay him a visit. It was the first time she had been him since his arrest.

On her way out she was halted by the deputy jailer, whose name was Grady.

"Dora," he said, "have you hired a lawyer for Abe yet?"

"Naw, suh," she said, "often Abe was guilty, right away I'd git him a lawyer. But he p'intedly tells me he ain't de least bit guilty. So, of co'se, dat bein' de case, he ain't needin' no lawyer to git him clear."

From the floor above, down the iron stairway, came floating the voice of Abe:

"Mr. Grady, oh, Mr. Grady!—you tell 'at fool nigger woman down thar to git a lawyer—an' git a damn good one, too."

TODAY'S RECIPE

Beef and horseradish, though an old old combination, is still a popular one. The piquant spicy flavor of the horseradish seems to add just the needed tang to the savory flavor of the beef.

Even though the combination is old, the ways of combining may be new. Here are ones which you may not have tried before suggested by Inez S. Willson, home economist.

Horseradish Jelly (for Roast Beef)

- 3 1-4 cups sugar
- 1-2 cup horseradish
- 1-2 cup vinegar
- 1-2 cup commercial pectin

Measure the sugar, horseradish and vinegar into a large saucepan and mix thoroughly until the sugar is dissolved. Bring to a boil, then, at once add the pectin, stirring constantly. Reduce to a full rolling boil and boil for one-half minute. Remove from the fire, skim, and pour quickly into jelly glasses. When firm, unmold and serve with roast beef.

RKO KEITH BOSTON

Charles W. Koerner, divisional director for RKO Theatres, announces the personal appearance of the stars of "Of Thee I Sing" and "Let 'Em Eat Cake", William Gaxton and Victor Moore, with their "National Frolics" for the Keith-Boston Theatre commencing Friday.

The obtaining of the two biggest stars in legitimate show business William Gaxton and Victor Moore is the vaudeville coup of the season. The Keith-Boston is indeed proud to present these stars more familiarly known as "President Wintgreen" and "Vice-President Throttlebottom." In their huge "National Frolics," they have enlisted the services of the following well-known variety stars: J. Fred Coots, Broadway's favorite composer, singing and playing his own song hits; Betty Jane Cooper and the Lathrop Brothers, "six feet with a single thought"; and the Three Emeralds.

RKO KEITH THEATRE

"Long Lost Father", John Barrymore's new starring vehicle for RKO Radio Picture, comes to the Keith Theatre Saturday, Feb. 10th, a film which recalls "A Bill of Divorcement" in which Barrymore offered a remarkable characterization role as Katharine Hepburn's father.

In "Long Lost Father", Barrymore is seen in the title role in a comedy-drama wherein a father labors to regain his daughter's love. As Carl Bellairs he is the father of Lindsey Lane whom he deserts as an infant. Twenty years later father and daughter meet in the elite London cabaret which he manages and where she entertains—Lindsey hating her parent more than any other man on the earth for his treatment of her as a baby.

Carl essays to show his responsibilities over Lindsey but she only mocks him. Soon she falls in with the boisterous and fast-stepping crowd of Lord Vivian and Lindsey finds herself accused of a crime which results from a prank. Her friends deem her guilty and her only recourse for aid is from her scapegrace father. Carl knows his help will mean his exile but he uncovers his past in a spectacular fashion by turning a shady trick that saves the girl.

Donald Cook, Helen Chandler, Reginald Sharland, E. E. Clive, Natalie Moorehead and Alan Mowbray, are seen in John Barrymore's support in "Long Lost Father". Ernest B. Schoedsack directed from an adaptation of G. B. Stern's novel.

MODERN THEATRE

With Fredric March and Miriam Hopkins as products of the Park Ave. social world and with George Raft and Helen Mack as graduates of the slum sidewalks, Paramount's "All Of Me" which opens its engagement at the Modern Theatre, today proves that while there may be two kinds of women, there is after all only one kind of love.

On the same program, those truly great radio stars, Myrt and Marge, make their first appearance on the screen in a full length feature picture bearing the title, "Myrt & Marge". They are surrounded by some of the finest artists of stage, screen and radio. Myrt and Marge are conceded to be the most popular dramatic radio skit on the air. They have won popularity contests over Amos 'n' Andy, and The Goldbergs. Sharing the spotlight in this picture with them are Eddie Foy, Jr., Grace Hyes, Ted Healy and his stooges, Trixie Friganza, and J. Farrell MacDonald.

This program is a top notcher boasting such stars as Fredric March, Miriam Hopkins, George Raft, Helen Mack, Paramount's latest discovery, and Myrt & Marge, and Modern Theatre patrons will vote it one of the year's best.

DEATH ON THE RADIATOR

About one out of every ten of the automobiles that use the public streets and highways, should wear as an emblem a large, staring death's head.

It wouldn't be a pretty sight. But it would be an accurate symbol. Ten per cent of motorists are responsible for our gigantic death and injury toll. Not all of them, of course, have an accident every year. But they all take chances. They are irresponsible or incompetent or congenitally careless. They drive cars with defective brakes and steering mechanisms and poor lights. They cut in and out of traffic, missing oncoming cars by an eyelash and feeling a thrill of achievement while doing it. They pass on hills and curves, and regard even the most basic and sensible traffic laws as being inimical obstacles which should be avoided whenever possible. They drive at high speeds when road and traffic conditions make it exceedingly dangerous.

And — every year — they leave behind them 30,000 corpses and hundreds of thousands of injured persons whose sole offense was that they happened to be present when the reckless driver was taking one of the chances he didn't get away with.

Yes, there should be the emblem of death on a long line of automobiles which otherwise look no different than any other cars of their kind. This suggestion may make some of the reckless drivers think twice before running a risk the next time.

B. A. A. SCHOOL MEET AT GARDEN SATURDAY

The 39th annual B. A. A. Interscholastic track meet will be staged Saturday afternoon at the Boston Garden, and the wonder is if the present crop of stars can duplicate the great feats of the 1933 wonders who cracked three records a year ago at this great schoolboy classic. Newark Prep, which figured in a new relay and high jump record, will send another strong batch to compete. St. John's Prep, which finished second to Newark last year, has no champion like Larry Scanlon, record breaker in the 300, for Larry is now a topnotch at Holy Cross fresh. But Worcester Academy and Huntington have some choice runners, and with what the high school boys can offer in the way of competition, the meet looks like another natural for lively entertainment.

The spacious Garden track is going to allow a lot of the Greater Boston talent to settle their grudge races. Mather of Medford and Noseworthy of Malden tied on time at the Northeastern University games. The fans would like to get a peek at them in the same heat Saturday and it wouldn't be surprising if they both landed in the final.

Did You Ever Stop To Think

by Edison R. White

Morley Stuart, editor of the Cambridge (England) Daily News, in a talk given before the Cambridge Publicity Club, in part said:

"The late Mr. William Farrer Taylor, the founder of the Cambridge Daily News, used to say that the ideal paper was one composed of half news and half advertisements. I believe that is a very reasonable proportion, but when the balance weighs down heavily on the advertisement side, an editor does not feel too happy. The trouble is sometimes caused by the late arrival of advertisements, which upsets all calculations.

"Though an editor might dislike the pressure of advertisements on the news columns, it does not mean, of course, that he does not believe in advertising. Proof is brought home many times that 'it pays to advertise,' but I am sometimes surprised at the way advertisers go to work. It is, of course, entirely their own business, but I do not understand the policy of those who pack as much into the space they take as a holiday maker crams into his suitcase. My own preference is for 'plenty of white.'

"There is one thing an editor has continually to fight against and that is the desire on the part of other people to secure free advertisements in the news columns. Every morning's post contains requests for publicity on behalf of cases and commodities. The movements might be very good ones, well deserving of support, but the trouble is that not one in twenty has the least local connection or interest and one feels that even if space were found for the matter, it would not be read. Some years ago I wasted so much time each morning opening envelopes and consigning their contents to the wastepaper basket that I hit on the idea of making a week's collection and seeing what it looked like in bulk. At the end of the week I spread it out, classified it and wrote an article for the 'Newspaper World' which I hoped might have the effect of lessening the flood. In one case the only effect it had was to bring stuff addressed to me personally instead of merely to 'The Editor'."

Making Vegetable Garden Ornamental

There is no need to make your home lot unsightly because of a vegetable garden. In fact there is much real beauty in ordered rows of vari-colored green, whether they are of onions, turnips, or some of the brilliant annuals, such as asters, or zinnias. A combination of the two is most satisfactory, and all it needs is a little planning this time of the year.

A glance at the drawing will show you what can be done without much effort. Here the garden has been divided up into beds combining vegetables and flowers, with boundaries of the larger blooms. They are separated by walks of green lawn, which might easily be made of flagstone, and actually add to the beauty of the landscape. Rows of annuals could be planted alternately with the vegetables, and a border of alyssum, lobelia, or the signata pumila marigold at the edge of the walks, might give added beauty and finish.

This alliance of flowers with vegetables is an old world custom of long tradition, practiced extensively in England and Germany, and particularly suited to the city gardener whose limited space does not permit of too extensive planting. Many of the vegetables of ornamental foliage actually vie with the flowers in attractive display. Such are parsley, carrots, swiss chard, and that useful herb, sage, the grey-green shoots and blooms of which are as stunning as many of the subjects in the flower garden.

As few or as many flowers as wanted can be put in the vegetable garden in this manner. Straight rows, a definite design, a background of stately delphiniums, or hollyhocks, and a simple edging are all that is necessary to make the garden attractive. A lattice fence with flowering vines, a few berry bushes in the far corners, and a smooth velvet lawn all add to your garden layout.

By all means make a definite plan for your garden this season. Get out pencil and paper, draw a little outline of your available space and then begin to plan just what flowers and vegetables you want and where to put them. Centaureas, asters, calendulas, scabiosa, ten weeks' stocks and other annuals of compact and upright growth are excellent for this type of planting. Wide spacing flowers will not appear at their best here.

A vegetable and flower garden setting out in the center of the lawn is attractive, or it may be moved farther back and encased with a lattice fence, a row hedge or shrubbery. Every home has its own problems, and no matter how large or small your back lot may happen to be, there is room enough for a beautiful garden. Make plans now so that you may have your seed in hand when the planting season comes in just a few weeks.

Lady Ashley, daughter of a London tavern keeper, married the English lord, heir to the conservative Earl of Shaftesbury, in 1927, after she had won stage fame as Sylvia Hawkes.

CURRENT NEWS OF LIVELY INTEREST

SK NEW ROAD BETWEEN OSTON AND LOWELL

The necessity of a first-class road between Lowell and Boston was stressed yesterday before the Legislative Committee on Highways and Motor Vehicles by Senator Charles A. Stevens and Representative Albert L. Bourgeois.

Senator Stevens spoke for a resolution which would give the department of Public Works the right to investigate the old Middlesex Turnpike from E. Lexington to North Chelmsford in order to study possible construction.

Representative Bourgeois asked for a four-lane road. He said a four-lane road is the only practical one because a three-lane roadway such as along the Newburyport Turnpike has proved dangerous.

Representative Frank E. MacLean said he was opposed only so far as support of the Lowell-Boston road jeopardized changes of the Lowell-Lawrence boulevard.

ILL WOULD LET STATE REBUY BONDS FROM U. S.

The Ways and Means Committee of the House has reported a bill, based on a portion of Gov. Ly's annual message to the Legislature, which bill would enable the State to repurchase any of its bonds sold to the Federal Government under the Public Works program. The bill, if enacted, goes into effect as soon as it receives the Governor's approval.

The proposal would meet the situation caused by the intention of the Federal Government to sell to the public the State bonds which the Government receives under the Public Works program. The bill authorizes the State treasurer, with the consent of the Governor, to buy back any Massachusetts bonds held by the Federal Government and pay for them ultimately by other issues. The State expects to be able to sell its own bonds to the public at a lower rate of interest than that required by the Federal Government.

DOCTORS WANT FEES IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Physicians, representatives of the Massachusetts Medical Society and other medical organizations and citizens were heard by the Legislative Committee on Judiciary on the bill which would permit a physician giving treatment for injuries in an automobile accident to receive payment direct from the insurance company.

Senator Charles G. Miles of Brockton, a physician, presented the case of the petitioners.

WOULD HOLD PRIMARIES MONDAY, SEPT. 17

The House ordered to a third reading yesterday a bill setting the date for the State primaries as Monday, Sept. 17, instead of Tuesday, Sept. 18. The reason for the change, as explained by Rep. Samuel Cohen of Boston, was that the Day of Atonement starts on the afternoon of Tuesday, Sept. 18, which would prevent a large number of Jewish people from casting their ballots.

BILL RAISES PENALTY FOR CARRYING WEAPONS

A bill increasing the penalty for carrying concealed weapons has been filed in the Legislature by Rep. William C. Dolan of Boston. Under its provisions the penalty for the first offence would be imprisonment for a term from five to 10 years, for the second offence from 10 to 15 years, and for the third offence 10 to 20 years.

BILL TO MAKE LICENSES COTERMINOUS ADVANCED

After a short debate the Senate ordered to a third reading the bill making licenses of innholders and common victuallers coterminous with licenses granted for the sale of alcoholic beverages. The measure was opposed by Senator Nicholson of Wareham and favored by Senator Putnam of Westfield.

Senator Langone of Boston asked the Senate to reconsider its vote whereby it accepted the adverse report of the Committee on Taxation on his bill for an investigation, of the purchase of tax titles.

Bust of Roosevelt Awarded At Charity Bridge and Whist

With an attendance of over 80 members, the West Side Catholic club held its weekly charity whist and bridge in the assembly hall of the Immaculate Conception Girls' High school. The program featured the awarding of the special prize, a bust of President Roosevelt, to Mrs. Mary Sullivan.

The program was directed by Mrs. Stephen Kelliher and Miss Mabel Kelley assisted by a committee consisting of Mrs. Margaret Trainor, Mrs. Clement F. Lynch, Mrs. J. J. Haney, Mrs. A. Roy Tribble, Mrs. Elizabeth Murphy, Mrs. Edward Devine, Mrs. Charles Neville and Mrs. Anna V. Cronin.

Bridge winners were: Mrs. Ambrose P. McGinley, Mrs. Walter M. Healey, Mrs. William B. McEahan, Pres. Mrs. F. D. McCarthy, Mrs. Louis L. Lyons, Mrs. Chas. A. Hardiman, Mrs. William F. Sheridan, Mrs. Clement Handy, Mrs. William H. Doyle, Mrs. Edna Perry, Mrs. C. W. DeMott, Mrs. John V. Powell, Mrs. J. J. Haney, Mrs. Eric Rosdahl, Mrs. E. A. Trager, Mrs. C. L. Elsenr and Miss Mary Burke.

Souvenirs in whist were won by Mrs. Ernest N. Devir, Mrs. Mary Dunne, Mrs. Daniel Connell, Mrs. Frank Coughlin, Mrs. John Flynn, Mrs. Mary Walsh, Mrs. J. A. Foley and Mrs. Benjamin Barcellas. Richard Kelliher was in charge of the punching in whist.

GOTT EXPLAINS NEED OF STATE SALES TAX

share of that bill will be $600,000.

"In 1932 real estate in Massachusetts was assessed $210,754,735 and in 1933 real estate was assessed $190,683,188. That shrinkage will not help, of course unless our appropriations are also reduced. If our appropriations remain the same it makes no difference whether we have a high valuation and a low tax, or a low valuation and a high tax. Can we raise $190,000,000 by real estate taxes in 1934? It seems quite clear that the Federal government is getting the end of the amount of money which it can freely distribute either in direct contribution or in work projects. We cannot close our eyes to the fact that when the work projects of the Federal government, such as the CWA, cease, the public welfare rolls are likely to be increased substantially, and there is evidence that public welfare and relief work generally, will be the vital problem for 1934. This, in any event is certain, that in 1933 real estate was relieved by at least two things that cannot recur in 1934. These two things are the following:—1. By passing a law in 1933 permitting the taxation of domestic dividends, there was provision that cities and towns could borrow in anticipation of that revenue the state expected to receive in 1934, 1935, and 1936, the money to be used to reduce the tax against real estate in 1933. Under that chapter (which is numbered 307) cities and towns, at least 63 of them, did borrow $12,217,053. These towns cannot possibly have that revenue in 1934 because they have taken anticipated revenue for the next three years, and used it all in a single year, 1933. It is estimated that the revenue to the State from this new source will be about $8,000,000 per year or $24,000,000 for the three year period and each city and town will receive its proportionate share. 2. There was also a provision permitting cities and towns to borrow on tax titles which had accumulated, and 42 cities and towns borrowed on tax titles to the extent of $6,418,000. Adding this amount to the relief afforded under Chapter 307, i. e. the $12,217,053 mentioned above, it means that $18,000,000 is definitely out of the picture as not being available to the cities and towns to reduce their 1934 tax on real estate. Therefore, unless the cities and towns can

As Police Battled Rioters in French Capital

Conflict ensued when rioters attempted to storm Chamber of Deputies where Premier Daladier had just been given vote of confidence.

reduce their expenditures at least $18,000,000 in 1934, then $18,000,000 will have to be raised by a direct tax on real estate.

"The Governor proposed that $10,000,000 of the gasoline tax be used this year to help out the State tax. In 1933 that was done. However, if the gasoline tax is not thus used in 1934 the cities and towns must make up that amount. There is, therefore, the possibility of real estate having this $10,000,000 also added, and it will fall on real estate unless it is diverted from the Highway Fund.

Unwise to Boost Income Tax

"It is probably unwise to further increase the tax on incomes, because incomes are small and any larger tax would result in driving this revenue source out of the Commonwealth, to a substantial extent. That is the opinion of the Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation. It should be borne in mind that only 5 1-2 per cent of our population pay income taxes.

"It is also feared that increased rates on corporations, commercial and savings banks, and insurance companies would do more harm than good. If they cannot prosper our unemployment problem would be aggravated, and the security of those institutions would be weakened.

"It is well to bear in mind, also, that insurance companies, savings banks, and cooperative banks are largely invested in real estate, and that whatever affects real estate affects those institutions, and whatever affects those institutions affects those who are depositors or borrowers from them. Every dollar that is deposited in our savings banks is represented by a nearly 60 cents loan on real estate. In other words, the aggregate deposits in the savings banks in Massachusetts are $2,024,738,843, and of that amount $1,193,422,146 is invested in mortgage loans. There seems to be a disposition to let real estate continue to carry the load. Possibly real estate can outlive the storm but there must be in the mind of everyone the idea that there is more than real estate tied up in the problem; that through loans, deposits, insurance contracts, etc., our financial institutions are most decidedly to be thought of when we crowd real estate owners too hard, and burden real estate with taxes beyond its strength to carry. It is a fact that real estate taxes are being paid out of the savings of small home owners. In thousands of cases the owners are not paying their taxes out of their present earnings, but out of their capital. When taxes cannot be paid, foreclosure usually results and during 1933 in this State our Savings banks foreclosed on property valued at over $68,000,000. Much of that property was again sold but the amount of foreclosed property now in the possession of our Savings banks, and the savings departments of Trust companies, is about $71,000,000.

Facing Shortage

"Increases in respect to uncollected taxes as of January 1st, 1934 make clear that it is still difficult, and growing increasingly difficult for the real estate owner to pay his taxes. We are facing a shortage, because, while we have definitely assessed real estate, all of it is not being paid. If money comes in, our cities and towns can continue to give service. If cash cannot be collected and it is necessary to sell the real estate, then we may borrow, but we cannot continue to live, or to receive the public services we have been enjoying, on expected future income.

"It is interesting to know that, throughout the State, only about 18 per cent of our people are paying real estate taxes. And this 18 per cent of our population pays 85 per cent of the total appropriations of our cities and towns. In towns like Arlington, Winchester and Belmont, which are distinctly towns of homes, and there is very little business property except stores, a very much larger percentage of our population is in the class of home owners, and the problem of real estate taxes more seriously concerns those people, than it concerns the residents of the large cities where the bulk of the population live in apartment houses. It is often argued that a person paying rent pays taxes indirectly, but at present so many families have doubled up, and there are so many cases of even three families living in one rent, that there are now more living quarters than persons seeking them. This has resulted in owners taking whatever rent they can get, and the average has been below a fair return, and in many cases not equal to interest and taxes.

Hard On Real Estate

"The relief of real estate has been so long delayed that it will take several years of real prosperity to get back into real estate the values that have been lost. Building, on a large scale at least, cannot start until after real estate can be relieved, and stands out as an investment of the soundest kind.

"Massachusetts needs, if it continues its present costs of government, some $20,000,000. The new source now up for defense is the retail sales tax. If the Legislature does not want that, then all should know that in turning it down, real estate will stand approximately $20,000,000 more in 1934 than in 1933, and only 18 per cent of our population will bear the full effect of this.

"Is it possible to cut down government expenses so that present taxes need not be increased, or new kinds of taxes imposed?

"If our municipal office holders have not offered a program of curtailment or abandonment of public services on a scale that would have a real effect on our tax burdens, then we may accept the fact that such a revolutionary idea as lessened service is difficult to bring about. Shall we give up our schools, shall we do without fire and police protection, shall we neglect our roads, and turn our feeble-minded and insane loose on the streets? No, of course not. But this business of getting revenue for government is everyone's business, and the problem can be solved only by the most unselfish, honest and courageous action. It is a common problem that concerns us all.

Twenty Billion Revenue

"If a sales tax is passed it is estimated that the State would receive about $20,000,000 yearly. All would pay in proportion to their spending. It is not pleasant to consider another tax but this may not be a very burdensome one, and we must realize that we face a serious crisis.

"If we know that 2 cents of every dollar we spend is going to help support government, meaning our schools, street lights, fire and police departments, water and sewer services, sidewalks and streets, health and sanitation departments, hospitals, parks, playgrounds, welfare departments, and many, many other things, then I think the average person would pay gladly, and thankfully, because he could never purchase, alone, those things that government allows us to enjoy."

BUNKER HILL DAY

The cities in Suffolk county will vote at the next State election on making June 17th a legal holiday in Suffolk county.

Many cities and towns not in Suffolk county have observed Bunker Hill Day as a holiday, and Charlestown was a mecca for many years before the days of aridity.

Charlestown became famed for its hospitality—everywhere persons held open house—no stranger within the gates went hungry—or dry—and then came the days of wailing. Great preparations are underway it is understood for a revival of the old celebrations, which although continued through the years lacked that something which is now restored.

As in years gone by—the rallying cry of "the night before the 17th" will be "all aboard for Charlestown."

The Legislature approved putting the matter to a vote on June 10, 1933.

Personal Exemptions

In addition to the personal exemption of $1,000 for single persons and $2,500 for married persons living together and for heads of families, a taxpayer is entitled to a credit of $400 for each dependent, defined by income-tax law and regulations as a person under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective. The term "mentally or physically defective" means not only cripples and those mentally defective but persons in ill health and the aged.

In order to be entitled to the $400 credit, the taxpayer must furnish the dependent his or her chief support. The credit is based upon actual financial dependency and not mere legal dependency. For example, a father whose children receive half or more of their support from a trust fund or other separate source is not entitled to the credit.

Neither relationship nor residence is a factor in the allowance of the $400 credit for a dependent. The taxpayer and the dependent may be residents of different cities. If husband and wife both contribute to the support of a dependent, the $400 credit may be taken by the one contributing the chief support, and may not be divided between them.

A single person who supports in his home an aged mother is entitled not only to the $400 credit for a dependent, but also to the personal exemption of $2,500 as the head of a family. A widower supporting under similar circumstances a dependent child under 18 years of age also is entitled to the personal exemption of $2,500 as the head of a family, plus the $400 credit for a dependent.

Under the Revenue Act of 1932 both the personal exemption and the credit for dependents are required to be prorated where the status of the taxpayer changed during the year.
